

With L`élégance Parisienne, J. Leitner shows a new interpretation of the well most famous flacons in the world. Inspired by the iconic nature of perfume united In his sculpture he combines pure sensuality with opulent elegance and graceful lightness self-confident strength and at the same time questions the meaning and definition of luxury. The work of art features a symbiosis of different surfaces exclusive bronze becomes a multi-sensual experience, with J. Leitner skillfully plays with the different levels and curved shapes of the bottle united with the sublime image of a camellia - Coco's favorite flower Chanel and probably the most famous element of the House of Chanel.